2019 Official Roster

(alphabetical)

eNASCAR PEAK Antifreeze iRacing Series

The only officially-sanctioned NASCAR eSport online racing series featuring the 40 best oval sim racers globally

Series features NASCAR Monster Energy Cup Cars on tracks found on the real-world NASCAR schedule

Series is an 18-race schedule over the course of 32 weeks (February through October)

All races professional produced and broadcast – Streamed live on multiple sites

Series founded in 2009

Over $100,000 prize pool for 2019 season

Over $200,000 in cash and prizes paid out since inception

2019 is the 10th year of this world championship series

Definitions:

Power Ranking: Combines all criteria and assigns an ordinal rank to each driver, so that the highest rated driver earns the #1 rank.

iRating: The points system used by iRacing to determine a competitors racing ability. It is calculated with an algorithm that calculates how well one competes against the strength of field (or strength of your opponents).

Total Race Wins: Total races won on the iRacing platform in official races

Win Percentage: The percentage of wins based off of the total official races run

Pro Series: The designation of "Pro" in the Statistics refers to the Pro Series. The Pro Series is the qualifier series preceding the PEAK series. All drivers that have not yet qualified into the PEAK series OR those competitors that were not in the Top 20 in points from last years PEAK Series points must requalify through the Pro Series by finishing in the Top 20 in final Pro Series standings.
